Pachter (Charles) 1942-
Correspondence, 1950-2001
Artist, Author, Lecturer, Entrepreneur

RESTRICTED, READ WITH PERMISSION

Extent: 43 boxes including OVS (8 metres)

Collection is comprised exclusively of correspondence, including photographs and drawings from various friends and associates of Charles Pachter, many of whom are prominent Canadians. The collection contains personal and business material from the 1950s to 2001. The correspondence reflects Pachter's extensive and changeable career as an artist, including material from all of his exhibitions; for the retrospective of his work, Charles Pachter by Bogomila Welsh-Ovcharov; his close relationship with his mother and father ("Dibbles and Har") and his large circle of friends, fans and acquaintances. Pachter studied art at the Sorbonne in Paris, the Cranbrook Academy of Art in Michigan and the University of Toronto. His involvement in graphic art production; paper-making; real estate; building renovation and Gracie's, his Queen Street West restaurant in Toronto are all documented here. The collection also includes material related to his work as writer, lecturer, informal Canadian historian, and his extensive charitable pursuits.

Note: Restricted. All readers must be referred to Charles Pachter for permission to read.

Written permission from Charles Pachter by letter, fax or email required by the library prior to use.

Note: Also check restrictions on specific correspondents.

Margaret Atwood's correspondence is restricted until 2032.

Phoebe Larmore's correspondence is restricted until 2042.

Gift of Charles Pachter, 2002.
